duled for completion in December.

Being built at a cost of $430,000, half of it county funds and half a federal (PWA) grant, the hospital building will be a T-shaped structure to accommodate 40 patients. The county funds come from a levy approved by the voters a year ago. The levy also will provide for additional work at the County Home farm and bolster salaries of personnel at the farm. The state-approved, fire-proof building is being built by Riley Construction Co. of Alliance. Each room will accommodate two patients and there will be a common dining room and three separate living parlors. The hospital unit will sit on top of a hill slightly to the left of the present county home

Three Republicans and two Democrats are vying for their parties' nominations for an unexpired term ending Dec. 31,

The incumbent, Democrat Lynn B. Griffith of Warren, was appointed to the court in 1962 by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle to replace James F. Bell, who resigned. Judge Griffith and his opponent, Merrill D. Brothers of Columbus, chairman of the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals, seek the balance of that term.

Union Owes Hoffa Everything

His countrymen now feel the same cold objectivity about James R. Hoffa that he seems to feel about them. There is this atmosphere of impersonal frostiness about his latest encounter with the law.

As he starts his trial on federal charges of misusing $20 million in Teamsters Union pension reserves, Mr. Hoffa has run into an opinion by the union's counsel, Edward Bennett Williams, that he cannot use union funds to defend himself.

It is pointed out in this respect that Mr. Hoffa, himself, sponsored a change in the union's constitution in 1961 to make legal defense costs of its officers payable out of union funds. This authorization originally covered only cases that the executive board thought were brought for the purpose of badgering the officers but later was broadened to cover all cases, at the discretion of the board.

This authority is being challenged from within the union. The ultimate mischief lies in a legal ruling on a similiar case that could cause Mr. Hoffa to pay not only his own legal expenses in his latest trial but all his previous legal expenses. These would come to a staggering total. He has spared no union expense to defend himself.

In the spirit of cold objectivity, why should he have spared any expense as long as the money was coming out of the Teamsters Union? He has made it plain that it owes everything to his leader-

Of the challengers, Atty. Donald W. Elliott is the most formidable, but Mr. Greenisen and Mr. Hunston are dedicated public servants, well-trained in the administration of the county government.

Democrats, in their primary balloting, would do well to favor former commissioner R. Max Gard of Lisbon and Robert Owen of East Liverpool, former East Liverpool city councilman and safety-service director in that city.

Stopping foreign policy debates at the water's edge never seems to work.

IF DEBATE is stifled, as it was during most of World War II, the American people run the risk of being hornswoggled with fast shuffles like Yalta and Potsdam. When they come to, the damage has been done.

If debate is unlimited and free-swinging, the people are diverted with hanky-panky like the Cuba-Quemoy-Matsu go-around of 1960. As it was to turn out later, one of the 1960 debaters, Vice President Nixon, was participating with one hand tied behind him because he couldn't tell everything he knew and the other debater took advantage of this.

It isn't in the nature of Americans to declare subjects out of bounds. The Establishment isn't that all-powerful here.

ACTUALLY, the only reason for trying to squelch debate on foreign policy is fear of being misunderstood abroad. But do foreign ministers and heads of state abroad really take to heart what Americans say about foreign policy? We doubt

They know more about our Constitution and the way we thresh out our problems than we think they do.

New Rail Strike Threat

By VICTOR RIESEL Already there is new railroad strike talk in the troubled air. Just one crisis has been skillfully sidetracked in the White House. Another is highballing down on the country. This one will begin to pick up speed in a few months a nd continue until the new deadline for action on the night of Jan. 25, 1966. Then the President of the United States will again have to move in.

On that day, "There well could be chaos and confusion on the rail lines," I have just been told by the venturesome Texan. Charles Luna, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Not only is he head of the largest of the on-train unions which threatened to strike last week but he is about to catapult into the group of national labor chiefs who make policy for all American labor.

"Why the night of Jan. 25, 1966?" I asked Luna.

"Because on that night our brotherhood will expect the railroads of the land automatically to rehire all men they've laid off in this battle over the two years between Jan. 25, 1964,

I then asked Luna what is the real significance of the date, Jan. 25, 1966. Speaking in the jargon of a man who has worked himself up from bridge tarring and hand toil on the roadbeds, he responded with, "Watch Arbitration Board No.

This is the seven-man arbitration board created by Congress to settle disputes arising under the compulsory arbitratoin law passed at the end of last August. It has the power to decide how deeply train crews in general can be cut by the railroad companies and goes far beyond the 30,000 locomotive firemen who can be eliminated under an earlier ruling.

which have "full crew" laws. Luna says that this could eventually affect 30,000 of the employes who are trainmen, as well as 30,000 firemen and thousands of others.

Under previous rulings some 3,700 firemen will be laid off on May 7, the very day on which "282" convenes at Washington to set up procedure for the hear-ing of railroad demands for new layoffs. The hearings themselves will start this summer.

Luna said that his union will go along with "282's decisions." But these are only good for two years under last summer's special compulsory arbitration law, which has been upheld by the Supreme Court.

"After that we no longer are bound by anything," Luna explained. "We still have our old contracts with the railroads. Everybody seems to forget that No. 282 can impose an interpretation only for the two years between last January and January board 6. But the board's decisions don't change our regular

Health Tips For Travels

By EARL UBELL

Only the psychologically per-erted want to be ill; and it verted would take a real masochist to want to be ill while traveling.

Yet it is quite easy to reduce your chances of being thrown into a sick bed or a hospital while on vacation-provided you take some fairly simple precautions.

Of course there are the inevitable "shots" and there is always Aunt Mary telling you to watch out for the "water" and the well-meaning "medical" expert who tells you to watch out for foreign doctors. So the first precaution is to dismiss a lot of what you hear about health conditions abroad as pure fantasy.

If you are traveling to most parts of Europe, medically it is as if you have never left the United States. The physicians and medicines are in most cases the equal to any you will find in your own city. In England, for example, your medical services even as a "visitor" are free under the National Medical Service Act.

NEVERTHELESS, because of the sporadic outbreaks of certain ailments in Europe, the United States Public Health Service requires you to carry a valid certificate of vaccination against smallpox in order to return home. You can get such a certificate by writing to the United States Public Health Service, Washington, D.C., at a local health office or from many travel agents. Most doctors have a supply.

Since there is always a possibility of accident while traveling, it is a good idea to be inoculated against tetanus lockjaw. Also, make sure that you have the proper polio booster.

In general, the United States Public Health Service recommends that before you start out on any trip, you see your doctor for a check-up. Ask him for medications for motion sickness or for dysentery. If you are already being treated for some ailment, it is a good idea to take along an extra supply of the medicine or prescription, since they may be hard to get abroad.

Burning Question In Politics

There are those, on the other hand, who say that Mr. Johnson had better let well enough alone-that the civil rights controversy may cost him votes in the North and South anyway, and that he shouldn't complicate the situation by making it theoretically possible for Bobby Kennedy to be president some

Many politicians in their private analyses of the situation suggest that Mr. Johnson will virtually have to take a computer to figure out what gains and losses are involved in selecting or failing to select Bobby Kennedy for the vice presidential nomination—and then try to come up with an answer. IN WASHINGTON in the last three years many observers have said from time to time that they thought the attorney general was far more conscious of the facts of life and was even more astute in his understanding of public affairs than

word from Country Store

For some time I have been thinking about changing our store hours. For a number of years we have been open nineteen hours each day. From six in the morning till one the next morning.

In order to have more people here to serve you during our busy hours we will now open at 7:30 and close at 12:30. This will still give our customers 17 hours each day to shop and seven hours to sleep.

MAN SUES FATHER

CLEVELAND (AP)—Blaming his father for his own domestic troubles, Theodore W. Bowden filed a $975,000 damage suit Wednesday against his father, James J. Bowden of Corlant, president of Bradley Metal Co.

The son says he was fired from his job as vice president of Bradley Metal when he rejected his father's demands that he make a reconciliation with his wife. Theodore contended in his suit filed in Common Pleas Court that his father's interference actually placed any reconciliation beyond reach and estranged his three brothers and three sisters as well.
